

Data privacy policy

QAMETA SOFTWARE INC. values the protection of personal data, and we therefore place great emphasis on protecting your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains and clarifies how we, as data controller, treat our visitor's and customer's personal data according to (EU) 2016/679, the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

This policy will apply in situations where QAMETA SOFTWARE INC. (hereinafter "QAMETA SOFTWARE INC.", "we", "us" and "our") treats personal information collected from the site. By using our site, you agree that your personal information is processed in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

What is personal data?

Personal data is any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person; an identifiable natural person is a person who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person.

Categories of Personal data we collect

The personal information you provide is data that you actively provide to us by filling in different types of forms. When ordering products and services from QAMETA SOFTWARE INC., signing up for our programs, events, looking for vacant posts or submitting spontaneous applications, we may ask you to fill in forms where you provide us with your personal data.

We collect how visitors use the site and the users experience of the information, through your IP address, information about your browser settings, and how your operating system uses the pages. This information is processed for the legal basis legitimate interest and is used to develop website features and content.

Purpose with processing of personal data

The information we collect from you can be used for any of the following purposes:

- Give you a more personalized service. Your information helps us better meet your individual needs. If you have enabled cookies in your browser, that information can be used to be able to provide a personalized user experience.
- Improve and optimize our website. We are constantly striving to improve the supply of the site based on your information and views.
- Improve our customer service. Your information helps us provide you with more efficient customer service and support.
- Process transactions. Submit your goods and deliver the services you purchased from us.

Recipients of the personal data

We may disclose your personal information to all companies in our group (i.e. subsidiaries, our ultimate holding company and all its subsidiaries) insofar that it is reasonably necessary for the purposes stated in this privacy policy. We do not sell, trade or otherwise transfer your personal information to third parties. Exceptions are trusted third parties that help us to run the site, conduct our business, provide service, as long as these parties agree to keep the information confidential and not use it for other purposes that not agreed upon. We may also disclose your personal information where we find it necessary to comply with statutory requirements, maintain the site's policies or protect our or others' rights, property, or security. Non-personally identifiable information gathered from the website about visitors may, however, be provided to third parties for marketing, advertising or other use.

We have agreements with third party service providers to help us get a better view of the site visitors. These service providers are not allowed to use the information they collect on our behalf for anything other than helping us operate and improve our business.

If your personal data will be disclosed with any other recipients than stated in this Privacy Policy, we will provide you with information about that disclosure at the time collecting your personal data and obtaining your consent.

Cookies

Cookies are small files that a web site or service provider sends to the hard disk of your computer through the browser (if you allow) and which causes the site to recognize your browser and can retrieve and remember certain information.

We use cookies to execute some essential functionalities and improve the user experience as well as compile statistics on traffic and communication on the site.
